Well That Dog Won't Hunt

July 2016

I love this phrase! My dad and grandpa used to say this when they didn't think something would work. And like most kids, my first question was "why"? Why won't it work? I'm still asking those questions today.

Why do we limit ourselves because, "We've never done it that way before" or "That would never work" or "No one will listen"? Why won't that dog hunt? Why? Before we deem the "dog" worthless perhaps it's worth a second look. Sometimes it's as simple as trying a different approach or taking a calculated, well planned risk.

Imagine what could happen, if instead of limiting ourselves by our current perceptions, we considered the possibilities of what we could accomplish. Now read that last sentence again... and again.... How great would that be?

What's Up

Look for new changes over the next couple of months to make your shopping experience in the UCC Bookstore even better!

Counter Service for Textbooks & Course Materials

We've launched counter service for Summer Term and are hearing lots of positive feedback from students. It's helping with our lines at the registers and every single student gets personal service from a textbook specialist.

Our Floor Plan is Making Changes

A neighborhood couple donated a counter size table & chairs to us so that you can sit and enjoy a coffee, a snack or just sit & visit. It will be located near our charging station as well. Thanks for bearing with us as we make a few more changes this Summer. We love our customers!

Food Service Area is Expanding

This Summer our snack & drink area is expanding! Hot dogs will be back and we're adding grab & go breakfast & lunch taquitos. There will be a rack of healthier snack options and fresh fruit as well. We will be moving counters around to make it roomier and easier to find what you're looking for.

Quote of the Month

"Wherever there is a human being, there is an opportunity for kindness." - Seneca

What's New & Staff Picks

BOKOS Sandals

Spending time at the pool this Summer? These are a great option for poolside and the locker rooms. Several colors available.

Camelbak H2O Bottles

A great little water bottle to use for that spot on your bike, to use as a back-up when you're running out the door or to throw in the raft when you're floating the river.

Cute Summer Shirts

Check out this Jansport tank with a racer back. Umpqua & the Riverhawk logo are down the center back. It will be available in teal & pink in a variety of sizes.
