June 2016

What Are We Really Saying?

We've all been there. Listening to someone talk and realizing their words are saying one thing, but their attitude is saying something completely different.

I hear conversations all day long on campus. All sorts of topics, questions, frustrations & triumphs being bantered about. And yet... sometimes, the attitude coming across in the conversation doesn't match up with the words. The message comes across as unclear, unsupported or unfounded. If our attitudes don't match our words then...
